

ANNOTATIONS

V. K. Bugaev. System Characteristics of a Region as Administration Object.

System characteristics of regions which determine the necessity for their complex development on the basis of combination of government and self-government, current (tactic) and perspective (strategic) administration which correspond to the government organisation in the country, regions and territories are distinguished.

Yu. V. Khramov. Transport Aspect in Development of Centre Influence Zone of Social and Economic Activity of a Region.

A model of special formation of centre influence zone of social and economic activity with the account of transport infrastructure specificity and availability of the nearest transitional centres is considered in the article. The model is created on the basis of the analysis of static properties of transport networks and considers influence on the form and the dimensions of the centre of social and economic activity of the nearest transitional centres. Magnitude of two parameters which determine the form and the dimensions of the influence zone is presented.

D. V. Pisachkin. Methodological and Theoretical Aspects of Social Control in the Process of Regionalisation.

Different methodological and theoretical aspects of social control are considered in the article. Humanitarian and regional constituent entities of social practices being under the control of the society both internally and externally are in the centre of the author's attention.

G. A. Budanov. Interaction of State Power Bodies of the Russian Federation Constituent Entity and Federal Centre in the Process of Social and Economic Policy Formation.

The contents of the stages of the formation and the development of social and economic policy on the basis of interaction of state power bodies of the Vologda Region and the Federal Centre are presented. The necessity for formation and implementation of long-term regional social and economic policy is substantiated.

E. V. Trunina. Customs as Institute of Foreign Economic Activities in the Russian Federation and its Constituent Entities.

Main trends in the activities of the Russian Federation customs bodies which stimulate foreign economic activity of the country and its constituent entities are analysed in the article.

N. O. Kolchina. Some Aspects of Programme and Target-Oriented Regulation of Regional Population Living Standards.

Some aspects of programme and target-oriented regulation of the Republic of Mordovia population living standards are analysed in the article. Special attention is paid to the implementation of the priority national projects «Available and comfort housing», «Demography», «Health» and «Education».

A. A. Bashkarev. Internet as Universal Means for Political Communication.

The place and the role of internet in the development of political communication are analysed in the article. Its positive and negative features as well as the differences of its influence in authoritarian and democratic conditions are highlighted.

A. A. Adamesku. Peculiarities of Methods for Elaboration of the First General Scheme of Production Forces Allocation.

Basic provisions of methods for elaboration of the first General Scheme of production forces allocation in the USSR which will 40 this year are presented.

Basic Indices of Social and Economic State of the Russian Federation Constituent Entities in 2007.

Panel «Problems of Social and Economic Development of Regions».

Materials of part-time panel devoted to the analysis of different problems of the Russian Federation constituent entities development are presented.

S. V. Sigova, V. A. Gurtov. Budget Provision of Educational Sphere in the Russian Federation Constituent Entities.

State guarantees in education, budget provision of regions with total revenue, disproportions in educational system financing are analysed in the article. Correlation of the level of social and economic development, budget provision of regions education financing are presented.

M. A. Panfilov. Professional Maturing of the Jurist as Social and Pedagogical Problem.

Different components of professional maturing of the future jurist in the process of studying are presented. Faults in professional training of future jurists are highlighted and mechanisms for their elimination are offered.

A. A. Shchankin. Peculiarities in Adaptation of Part-Time Students of a Pedagogical University to Conditions of Regional Socium.

On the basis of the inquiry and electro-physiological research basic indices of adaptation of part-time students of the Mordovian Pedagogical Institute to the conditions of regional socium are drawn out.

F. I. Shamkhalov. Corporative Culture: Conceptual Aspect.

The analysis of some conceptual aspects of corporative culture as component of institutional environment of labour organisations' economic activity is carried out.

N. V. Panchenko. Corporatism as Technology for Social and Labour Relations Optimisation: Regional Private Companies Experience.

The article is devoted to actual problems of interrelations between employers and employees. Processes of transformation in mechanisms and schemes with the help of which interrelation of the parties is carried out are under research. It is presented that employers apply corporative culture to optimise their relations with employees. Social support measures as well as other technologies for personnel management implemented in the framework of new corporative paternalism in large private companies of the Altai Region are described.

V. A. Kizhevatova. Social Diagnostics of Transformations in Social and Labour Potential of the Russian Federation Constituent Entities as Administrative Instrument.

Fundamentals for the research of social and labour potential in the society conditioned by scientific achievements, up-to-date knowledge in social sciences, social and economic changes presently taking place in the society as well as by the phenomenon of globalisation are drawn out.

A. A. Somkin. Interrelation of Personality and Social Group as Factor for Development of Harmonious Regional Socium.

On the basis of the theory and methods of modern American organicism by A. Baam the mechanism of interrelation between the personality and the social group as factor for the development of harmonious regional socium is analysed.

A. B. Fakhretdinova. Role of Gender Stereotypes in Formation and Perception of Matrimonial Violence Problems (upon the materials of federal and regional press).

On the basis of the research of Russian and regional press gender stereotypes characteristic of the present-day society which originate from the man's dominance, passivity and dependence of the woman are analysed in the article. Aggravating sex inequality, patriarchal gender stereotypes promote the genesis and frequency of matrimonial violence upon the woman as well as the negation of power application of the woman toward the man.

E. N. Sunyaikina. Complex System of Inter-Sector Interrelation.

The characteristic for inter-section partnership as constructive interrelation between power institutions, business and non-commercial groups in the course of socially important problems solution is presented in the article. The analysis of the present stage of inter-sector partnership in the Republic of Mordovia is carried out. The results of sociological research «Interrelations of state power, business and non-commercial organisations in the region» are presented. It is offered to establish the system of inter-sector interrelations which will allow creating and implementing interactive and addressed social policy in the region.

V. P. Babintsev, I. V. Boyarinova, E. V. Reutov. Problem of Regional Youth Social Out-Siding.

On the basis of the results of sociological research the phenomenon of social out-siding among young people of the Belgorod Region is described. Social out-siding is treated in two aspects: social and economic which is connected with unfavourable living conditions of young people, on the one hand, and in dispositional, on the other. The latest has latent character and is not always recognised by young people. Its signs among youth are as follows: incapability to adequately estimate own chances, overestimation of personal capabilities and disregard of institutes and norms, domination of different simulacrum.

R. M. Khaziev. Regional Peculiarities of State Housing Policy.

Main stages in the formation and the development of state housing policy in the conditions of housing and utilities infrastructure and services are analysed in the article.

A. V. Suraeva-Koroleva. Mortgage Housing Crediting in the Region: Investment and Financial Model.

The model of mortgage housing crediting in the Republic of Mordovia is considered in the article. Basic schemes of mortgage crediting being used by OJSC «Mordovskaya Ipotecnaya Corporation» are highlighted.

G. G. Nikolaishvili. Social Advertising: some Items of Theory and Practice.

Different types of social advertisement in Russia and its constituent entities as well as main customers are analysed in the article. The demand for this type of advertisement in modern Russia is proved.

L. N. Kuryshova. Peculiarities of Consumption Style of the Poor in the Region.

Consumption character of the poor in the Republic of Mordovia is described. Peculiarities of consumption behaviour of the poor on the basis of state statistics and sociological inquiry are distinguished. Comparative analysis of consumption expenditures of the poor and other population layers is carried out. Basic points in economising of the poor, their consumption orientations, preferences and customer intentions are analysed.

S. V. Pupkov. Media-Psychological Influences on the State of Informational Order.

After the example of forced migration from military action in Chechnia and terrorist attack in Beslan activities of different mass media and their influence on moral and psychological state of the society are analysed.

Zh. Yu. Bakaeva. Informational Problems in Communicative Activities of Regions.

Some informational problems in communicative activities of regions with the accent upon the development of national culture and ethnos preservation as self-standing community are analysed.

N. V. Kruchinina. Factors in Formation of Administrative Structure of Environment-Orientated Activities in Regional Enterprises.

Increase in technogenic pressure on the environment implying social and economic damage demands adequate strengthening in environment-orientated activities in the regions on the basis of the formation of scientifically sound administrative structure. The results of the analysis of the factors influencing the formation of administrative structure of environment-orientated activities after the example of enterprises of the Saratov Region are presented in the article.

E. V. Jorjieva. Central Power and Kalmyk Elite in the XVIII — the Beginning of the XX Centuries.

Basic trends in the interrelations between traditional Kalmyk elite and central power of the Russian Empire in the XVIII — the beginning of the XX centuries are analysed in the article.

I. A. Puzrakov. Activity of the Simbirsk Department of the Pozemelny Krestyansky Bank in the Conditions of Agrarian Reform of 1906—1917.

The activity of the Simbirsk Department of the Pozemelny Krestyansky Bank in the conditions of agrarian reform of 1906—1917 which by far promoted the development of the agrarian sector of Russia into one of the most successful periods of its history is analysed in the article.

Panel «Region Culture in the Search for Self-Identity».

The materials of the panel where a broad range of problems connected with the search for self-identity of regions in culture are presented.